Problem: What to Do with It

WHAT'LL I DO WITH 'EM NOW I'VE GOT 'EM?

LORD SCORES FIRST RUN IN SECOND GAME

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—More than 30,000 frenzied fans were whooping their ecstasy in and around the playing field when the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics lined up here today in the second round of the seven-round go for the baseball championship of the world.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Bulge Marquard, the big mace in the National League this season, was entrusted to-day with the heavy task of taking the second game of the great world's series from Connie Mack's Athletics and the entire Giant outfit was talking confidently enough about the big left-hander's prowess to strike terror to the hearts of Philadelphians.

EX-FIANCÉE OF PASTOR SUICIDE

Church circles were deeply stirred and sorrow entered many hearts when it became known today that Miss Alice Lincoln, a New England Congregationalist who had just been married to the Rev. Mr. Lincoln, a prominent minister of the Baptist Church of Cambridge, Mass., had committed suicide.

WALKER AID UP WITH GOLD

Speaker Walker, ex-Representative Lord and Secretary of State Langley were cited from the ranks of upbuilding Republicans when the town of Norfolk began early today in South Britton, N. H.

DOES NOT KNOW HOW RICH HE IS

President William N. Wood of the American Woolen Company, one of the highest-salaried men in the country, doesn't know how many automobiles he owns or how many chauffeurs he employs.

With the reticence common to all great men, Managers McGraw and Mack refrained from announcing the names of the chosen athletes who would do the pitching for their respective forces until they were compelled to hand the actual facts to Empire Klem just before the fateful words "Play ball!" brought the vast army of spectators to its feet for another mighty howl of joy.

Special representative of the AMERICAN at the Cardinal Gibbons Jubilee.

BOY GONE, MOTHER FEARS HE IS DEAD

Bernard Hinkley, nineteen years old, of Everett, and employed in a Boston tailoring house, has disappeared from his home, and his mother and three young sisters are nearly heart-broken.

MRS. HAMMOND WILL REWARD GOWN FINDER

ALBANY, Oct. 16.—Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the recent special ambassador to the coronation of King George, will give $50 to the young woman who found and returned a valuable dress.

FIRST VICTIM OF THE HUNT SEASON SHOT

Worcester, Oct. 16.—The first victim of the hunting season, which opened here today, was Bernard Richmond, nineteen years of age, of No. 21 Greenwood street, this city, who was in a critical condition in the City Hospital with his body filled with shot.

However, it was pretty generally understood that Marquard and Coombs would do the delivering. There was not a cloud as big as a handkerchief to threaten the blazing blue of the sky just before play was called, and the broad green of the field glinted like a lake. A soft tingle in the air brightened the eye and quickened the pulse until the thousands were ready to laugh or cheer at anything.

Jack Coombs was the first choice for Mack as the American prepared for their first encounter on Philadelphia soil. It was another clear day and more attendance records were in danger, although no one expected the crowd here to be as big as the one in New York on Saturday.

Great Rush to Get Tickets.

The Giants' sole favorite in the wagering line that they will take the majority of the seven games, the prevailing odds being 3 to 5 with the New Yorkers on the edge.

Has Numerous Autos.

The witness stand that Mr. Wood was asked: Q.—What is your occupation? A.—President of the American Woolen Company.

AMERICAN'S BULLETIN'S First On World's Series Results

The Boston AMERICAN's window-to-day will flash bulletins of the great game play by play, as it did on Saturday, and will do it first, as usual. After the game watch for the AMERICAN's extra, which will appear on the street the moment the game is over. For the most complete account of the second game of the great world's series see the final edition of the AMERICAN to-day.

A black and white photograph of a baseball stadium, likely Fenway Park. The view is from the outfield looking towards the infield. The field is dark and appears to be in shadow. Several players are visible on the field. The outfield fence is lined with various advertisements, including "FALIMA", "HOLLIS", "JANISER", and "WHITE ROCK". The stands are filled with spectators. The sky is bright and overcast. The image has a grainy, historical quality.

she must have bought the poison on Hattu day. She did not leave the house, after she read of the Rev. Mr. Richardson's engagement in the Cambridge paper. She must have prepared to do just what she did when it became known that she had been killed."

Miss Edmunds, to whom the clergyman is engaged, is a Vassar graduate. Her father is a well-to-do real estate man. When reporters asked him about the tragedy to-day at his office, he was greatly

"I don't want to talk about it at all," he said. "Please go away."

The girl's mother said that her daughter's engagement to the clergyman had not been broken.

"I see no reason why it should be," said the mother. "I know nothing about Minnelli except what has been printed in the newspapers."

The Rev. Mr. Richeson preached yesterday from this text:

"I will declare Thy name unto the many brethren." In the midst of the multitude will I praise Thee. Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable to Thee, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer. As for me, I will behold Thy face in righteousness. I shall be satisfied, when I awake in Thy likeness. For as man is in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are now."

Went Smiling to Death.

Miss Linnell went to her self-imposed

In a pause in the conversation she picked up a copy of a Cambridge weekly newspaper and woman-like, turned to the "births, deaths and engagement" column. Apparently the blow was not as unexpected one to the girl as it had been to the audience and with a smile provoked by a jest from one of her companions, made an excuse and left.

The sounds of agony were traced to the bathroom. As they tried to open the locked door the means suddenly ceased and the silence returned. The door was unlocked but it was finally forced open and the body of Miss Linnell, dead on the floor, was seen.

Favorite of All.
Miss Linsell's father is a well-known builder. She was a favorite with many acquaintances in Boston, Hyannisport and many other towns along the elbow of Cape Cod. She was attractive, and her sweet voice often was heard in her home church at Hyannisport. Her father's devotion to her engagement to the clergyman, who was her acquaintance while he was pastor at Hyannisport, was so sincere that the sudden termination was the subject of much attention in that town.

The family of the deceased is prostrated by the tragedy and none of them will die until Miss Linsell is buried.

Miss Milton, daughter of Hyannisport, Miss McLean of Brockton and Heleu, all live at home.
